

CONFESSION OF HOPE ADMITTED

Mrs. Hartje Gains an Important Point in Celebrated Divorce Case.

PROSECUTION HARD PUSHED

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS ARE EXPECTED.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—Charges of crooked methods made by both sides were a feature of the sensational Hartje divorce case during its hearing today. What are apparently a series of legal victories for Mrs. Hartje, the respondent in the suit, also marked the day's session and culminated in the admission of the confessions of Clifford Hope, the colored coachman, in which he is said to have declared that he lied when he swore that he had improper relations with the respondent. This most important point was not gained until after a bitter contested struggle between opposing counsel, which lasted for over an hour and a half, and during which Attorney Ferguson made many sensational threats.

Defense Practically Closed.

With the offering of this confession and of several other documents today the case for the respondent was practically closed, although Attorney John Freeman of Mrs. Hartje's counsel, told the court that he might have some matter to present later. An adjournment was then taken until Monday morning.

Detective Ray of the Perkins agency and Superintendent G. P. Perkins told of the arrest of Hope in Ohio and of his being brought back to Pittsburg, where he made his confession. Attorney John Freeman of Augustus Hartje's counsel put both Ray and Perkins through a rigid cross-examination, in which he tried to show that Hope was made drunk and coerced into making his confession.

Mrs. Hartje Was Present.

Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, the respondent, testified that she was present when the first deposition of the negro coachman was taken, and that what he said there was "outrageously false."

There was a hard battle of argument when counsel for Augustus Hartje tried to get stricken from the case the evidence concerning Hope, given by John L. Welshons, Hartje's close friend, and the witness who followed him.

Attorney J. Scott Ferguson made the argument for Hartje, and bitterly arraigned Mrs. Hartje. Attorney John M. Freeman, chief counsel for Mrs. Hartje, replied sharply and was reinforced with typewritten and carefully prepared papers to establish his contention that the evidence was proper.

Evidence Admitted.

Judge Robert S. Fraser gave the counsel for Hartje no encouragement, and finally ordered that the evidence be considered and made a part of the case. The opposing counsel had difficulty in agreeing upon a statement of fact to be considered upon which the conclusions of law were based.

At the close of the day Judge Fraser said that the four statements made at this time, and corrected an intimation that he was acting solely in the interest of public morals.

Hope has made four statements, the first accusing Mrs. Hartje, and the other three, made later, declaring this to be false.

Sensations Promised.

With the unexpected throwing open of all the doors in the celebrated case, sensations even bigger than those heretofore promised are expected.

Adjournment was taken late this afternoon until Monday morning. Mrs. Hartje's side was given the privilege of examining the forty love letters until Monday.

Alleged Kidnaping Plot.

Telegrams received by the police tonight indicate a plot to kidnap the two Hartje children. The telegram was sent by Superintendent Taylor of the Philadelphia police department, and read: "Rumor here plot completed about one reported left here this morning for Pittsburg. No description."

As a result two special officers are on guard about the home of John F. Scott, father of Mrs. Hartje, and where Mrs. Hartje is now living.

The name contest at Calder's is like the weather—it's getting hot.

LARGEST WEIR IN THE STATE

Logan, July 20.—The canal companies drawing water from the Little Logan or north branch of Logan river have just completed the putting in of a big stationary weir that is said to be the largest one of its kind in the state. It was constructed under the direction of Engineer W. W. McLaughlin of the Agricultural college, who has also superintended the construction of half a dozen other big weirs on the Logan canals.

It was designed to measure from 80 to 145 second-feet of water, but will measure accurately any amount up to 200 second-feet. The companies interested in its construction intend putting in a re-enforced concrete diverting dam near the weir, and when this is done they will have the finest and most complete head works and measuring device in the west. Some of the dimensions of the weir are given below:

Thickness of floor, 1 foot; thickness of wall, upper section, 2 feet at bottom, 1 foot on top; lower section, 2 feet at bottom, 16 inches on top; height of walls, 7 feet; depth of apron, 2 feet; inside width above crest of weir, 23 feet; length of crest of weir, 15 feet; designed to carry a maximum height of 2 feet 9 inches on crest and a minimum of 6 inches. The crest of the weir is made of six-inch by six-inch angle iron.

All of the concrete used is re-enforced with three-eighths and one-half inch round iron.

In the building of the weir a little more than a carload of cement was used, it being used in this proportion:

One of cement, two and one-half of sand and five of gravel. The weir is about a mile east of Main street.

lodge in November, 1901, that they have won prizes at national reunions. In Salt Lake in 1902 Park City carried away the first prize for unique costume in parade, and it was the intention of the lodge to use the same scheme, that of prospectors at Denver, but when they got there they discovered that not less than three lodges had taken up the idea which originated here and were to be in the parade with their mules and so on. Accordingly the local bunch went about getting up something different, and the "Patriarch stunt" was chosen. This got them a third prize and together with a prize of the same denomination for a float in the parade.

The total result of their labors was $300.

The local lodge has always been boosting Park City and this time they have done not a little in the Utah advertising line.

Plans are now under way to have a big jollification meeting at the local lodge room as soon as the bunch get back from their trip.

Walter Fitch, one of the American Smelting company's engineers, has been in town all day in the interest of his company.

The big windstorm which occurred yesterday resulted in several little bits of damage to property in town, the largest of which was the fence along the east side of the city park being torn down for several hundred feet.

The city street commissioner will proceed at once to have the wreck repaired. Other little damage was reported such as several houses in the lower part of town had windows broken and in one or two cases the roofs were twisted in bad shape.

TOO GOOD TO LOSE.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "Yes," she said, "I've been going to cooking school for nearly six months now, and, really, you'd be surprised if I were to tell you all I've learned. I could, for instance, go into the kitchen and get up a good, wholesome meal without using a bit of meat of any kind, and—"

"Darling!" he wildly cried, "will you be mine?"
